

Southwestern Illinois College Foundation Board Member featured in St. Louis Commerce magazine

Bruce Holland, president of Holland Construction Services is featured in the February issue of St. Louis Commerce magazine. The article covers his successful construction business and his involvement throughout our region.

Southwestern is included in Holland's portfolio with the Schmidt Art Center on the Belleville campus. The art center features four galleries that display works by locally and nationally known artists and selected traveling exhibits, as well as meetings and dinner parties.